

SERVING OTHERS

You cannot serve others if you are attached to what you offer or how others receive it.

You must get out of the way so that Spirit can work through you.

Service is an opportunity to love, not a job description.

You cannot serve and have an identity or agenda.

When you help someone else you help yourself.

You help your mother and father.

You help your third cousin.

You help the drunk on the street corner.

Your help goes where it is needed.

You will never know all the people who are touched by your loving actions,

nor do you need to know.

Paul Ferrini