

WHY IT IS SO IMPORTANT TO CHOOSE YOUR WORDS WISELY!

Excerpt from May 16, 2018 message posted on www.matthewbooks.com

Words in all languages, like everything else in existence, are energy. Whether spoken, heard, thought, written or read, words emit vibrations and the vibrations of light, peace and love are among the highest.

Kindness, compassion, generosity, gratitude, forgiveness, godliness, honesty, hope and optimism also are in a high frequency range. The importance of choosing your words wisely cannot be overstated—they affect far, far more than the space immediately around you.

Via the universal law of attraction, or “like attracts like,” words’ vibrations combine with “like” and go out into your world. Words in high vibratory ranges merge with the light, words in low ranges are drawn to energy streamers with dark attachments, and words’ emissions intensify the source they join.

An important factor in this “war of words,” in a manner of speaking, is intent, which emits its own vibrations. If using words such as violence, deception, captivity, deprivation, catastrophe and others that denote harmful or ruinous situations have the intent to alert or enlighten, the high vibrations of intent predominate. If those same words or any others are used to create fear, that intent sends forth vibrations in the lowest range.
